Get Fit!

Over the past month, our elders have been devoting time at every meeting to plan for the coming year. Only one idea is discussed each week. That gives everyone plenty of focused time to pray and dream and plan in one specific area. Weekly topics include evangelism, service, edification, families, facilities, technology, and more. Every part of our congregational life is under review. It is thrilling to be a part of such a deliberate process that will abound in glory to God.

I teach a seminar on strategic planning for church leaders called "Get Fit!" To get fit is to be healthy rather than dysfunctional. Leaders and churches need fitness to accomplish godly goals. To get fit (healthy and aligned) requires four things. You must get close, clear, committed, and consistent. Healthy churches design and execute a plan for making and growing disciples. They get specific about how they will evangelize the lost and edify the saved. How do you do this? With a healthy exchange of ideas. But first you must get close enough to have meaningful conversations. To have the best possible future you must get the best ideas on the table. You must test and refine ideas until they are crystal clear. You must constantly communicate your ideas and consistently reinforce them. I am proud of our elders and their commitment to creating a better future for Southern Hills. — Aubrey
