Pride and Humility

It's been said that "pride is the only disease everyone around you suffers from, except yourself." The truth is that no one likes to be around people who are arrogant. Those who are boastful do themselves a great injustice by making themselves a burden to others. This is actually taught in Proverbs. We read "When pride comes, then comes shame; But with the humble is wisdom" (Proverbs 11:2). Those who boast in themselves do not accomplish their goal of making everyone think they are great; rather, they bring shame upon themselves. On the other hand those who are humble do the opposite. They are a pleasure to be around and thus they show us great wisdom. It is the humble that we hold in high esteem. Let us all be wise and humble ourselves. It is when we do this that others will think highly of us.

Guess the Camp Theme

Alright Everyone, it's time for this years edition of "Guess the Camp Theme"! For the next 3 weeks, look through the bulletin to find the scripture for that weeks clue. It may be easy to find one week, and not so easy the next. So get your reading glasses out and you thinking caps on! If you have a guess on what the theme is, please send it to mvalleyhaven@aol.com. The theme will be announced at the 1st of April!
