And the Lord, He is the One who goes before you. He will be with you, He will not leave you nor forsake you; do not fear nor be dismayed.

Deuteronomy 31:8

What comes to mind when you hear "It's graduation day!" This phrase conjures up different thoughts and emotions for each of us. Most of us will think back to the times we spend circled around by our families and friends as we celebrate a job well done.

Graduation can be a scary time for some of us. It is a day that marks the beginning of the next stage in life. Our high school graduates will be going to college, some will be moving to another city and others will be staying close by. Our college graduates will be beginning careers or maybe going to further their education with higher degrees. Either way graduation marks the beginning of a new era in our lives.

I want to remind each of us of three very simple ideas as we honor these thirteen graduates today. Remember who you are. Remember who you represent. Remember whose you are. Those three simple things will help to keep you grounded, focused on strengthening your faith and holding on to the fact the Lord is always there. Tonight, we will honor both our college and high school graduates. We will enjoy a walk down memory lane as we reminisce of stories from their childhood and look forward to what the Lord has in store for their lives. I hope you plan to stay this evening and help us honor these graduates as they embark on the next leg on this journey called life.
