Rejoice

The theme of first Peter can be summed up in four verses. Peter wrote, “In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved by various trials, that the genuineness of your faith, being much more precious than gold that perishes, though it is tested by fire, may be found to praise, honor, and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ, whom having not seen you love. Though now you do not see Him, yet believing, you rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory, receiving the end of your faith — the salvation of your souls” (I Peter 1:6-9). Peter wrote at a time when Christians were facing “various trials”. And he wanted them to know that their suffering was not in vain. As a matter of fact their hope should be so strong that even in the times of trials they “rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory”. We, like those Peter was writing to, need to keep our eyes on heaven no matter what comes before us.

She was born in East Germany just before the outbreak of WWII. Her father was a member of the Nazi Party and held a high office in government. Her life was happy and normal until January 1945, when the advancing Russian army forced her family to flee by foot to Prague, Czechoslovakia, as refugees until May 1945. Invite your friends and family to come to hear the continuing story of her life.

Dear Church Family,

Thank you all so much for your prayers and support before and after my surgery. I am having some pretty good days and some not so good days. The flowers brightened my days and the meal train arrived with wonderful food and sweet delivery people. I am so blessed to know and love each one of you.

In Him,

Barbara & Herb
