LOVE

Volume 29 Issue 46

Thank God for Deacons

During November, I have been preaching on ways to express our appreciation to God for His manifold blessings. On the first Sunday, we discussed "Giving Thanks in Song." Last week, we talked about "Giving Thanks through Stewardship." Next time, we will look at "Giving Thanks through Holy Living." My prayer is that we will build the habit of thankfulness into our daily lives. Thankfulness is a mindset and a lifestyle.

As we practice counting our blessings, let us give thanks for our deacons (1 Thessalonians 5:18). We recently added eight new deacons to make a total of 25. I don't know of another congregation our size with so many fervent servants working tirelessly to support the elders. Deacons are role models of righteousness and responsibility. They support elders, strengthen churches, relieve suffering, and help people grow spiritually.

Last Sunday, the elders held a reorganization meeting with the deacons. There is now one deacon over each ministry, and every deacon works directly with one elder as his accountability partner. Over the next few weeks, each deacon will be submitting his goals and planned activities for the coming year. Thanks to all for your devotion to Jesus and His church. – AJ
