Cling To What Is Good

When Paul wrote to the church at Rome he said “Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor what is evil. Cling to what is good” (Romans 12:9). This is an important passage because it has so many practical lessons for us to learn. However, today let’s focus on that last phrase.

Paul said “Cling to what is good”. Paul made a sharp contrast between “evil” and “good”. It is simply not enough to not practice evil, but Christians also need to be people who “cling to what is good.” If we fill our lives with good then we leave no room for evil. Plus “doing good” is what really draws people to Christianity. Many try not to do evil, but few focus on doing good. It is when we concentrate on doing good that we can make a difference in the world. It is when we are kind, benevolent, self-sacrificing, helpful, encouraging, and generous that we are fulfilling this command. Let us make sure that we “cling to what is good”.
