Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die; and whoever lives by believing in me will never die. Do you believe this?" John 11:25-26

Springtime is one of the best times of the year. The daylight starts to hang around longer, the weather begins to warm up, nature starts to green up and come alive and everyone we meet seems to be in a better mood. The rejuvenation of life in the spring time reminds us that summer is just around the corner. It brings the anticipation of activities such as Kite Day, Williamson County Bible Camp, Brothers Retreat, devotionals, Vacation Bible School, Berry's Farm Farmers' Market and the various mission efforts with which we are involved.

Just as the revitalization of nature during the spring celebrates the coming of summer, we have the continued reminder that there is the promise of eternal life. Upon the death of Lazarus, Jesus takes the opportunity to remind Martha that there is more than what we see in our physical life. He understands physical death is a difficult burden to bear. We see in vs. 35 Jesus wept over the loss of his friend Lazarus. He reminds them, in order to receive eternal life and the joy of heaven we must go through him. He ends up this statement with "Do you believe this?"

I want to challenge us to renew ourselves spiritually. We take time to do a spring cleaning in our homes and tend our gardens. I pray we also clean out our hearts and minds and tend our souls during this vibrant time of year. We are given this amazing gift and promise of eternal life – we need to take every opportunity that we have, to share that gift with others. The Great Commission was given by Jesus himself as a commandment for all of us to seek those who are lost and do our very best to teach them the truth.
