~ The Day of the Lord ~

Two weeks ago today we studied the second coming of Christ (1 Th. 4:13-18). Today we will continue that study as we look at "the day of the Lord" (1 Th. 5:1-11). We will define what the day of the Lord is, how it will come, how we should react and why we should react that way. From these points we will then draw a conclusion. This will complete our series of sermons on 1 Thessalonians.

Tonight young men from David Lipscomb High School will conduct our period of worship. The worship service will be followed by a choral program presented by the David Lipscomb High School Chorus. We hope you will be here for worship and will remain for the choral program and for the period of fellowship that will follow.

I want to thank Ken Hardison for the outstanding job he did last Sunday in both preaching and teaching the auditorium class. We appreciate Ken's good work. Those of us who were on the SHARE Retreat had a wonderful time. The fellowship and the food were excellent. Our speaker, Ray Penna, presented some excellent lessons on how senior Christians can make positive contributions to the Lord's work. We appreciate Ray's encouragement. We also appreciate Ken and Wilma Cooley's good work in putting the weekend together and making it go so well.

Thursday was Becky Tucker's last day as Assistant Director of the Sunshine Day School. She has done an outstanding job. We wish her well in her new work.
