What Is the Goal of Studying Christian Ethics?

Christian ethics is not merely about learning how to avoid sin or behave better. At its heart, it is about glorifying God with our lives. Before any command was given, God created people for His glory (Isa. 43:7). Salvation itself points in the same direction—that our lives would reflect Him in everything we do (Eph. 1:12). This means ethics reaches beyond church settings and major decisions; it touches ordinary moments like work, speech, and even daily routines (1 Cor. 10:31). Living for God's glory can sound abstract, but Scripture brings it down to earth. God is not only concerned with outward actions. He cares about the heart behind those actions and the fruit a life produces over time. A faithful life, then, cannot be measured by behavior alone. It includes character that is being shaped, habits that are forming, and obedience that flows from love rather than obligation.

Christian ethics is about who we are becoming. Scripture repeatedly calls believers to grow in virtue—not as a replacement for faith, but as its natural outcome (2 Pet. 1:5). These virtues are not isolated good choices; they are settled patterns of thinking and responding that reflect Christ. Becoming like Him is the ongoing aim of the Christian life (1 John 2:6). That growth often happens through obedience under pressure and even through suffering, as God uses hardship to mature and refine His people (James 1:2–4; 1 Pet. 2:21). In the end, obedience still matters. Jesus tied love directly to keeping His commandments (John 14:15). Christian ethics, then, is not about perfection in a moment, but direction over a lifetime—learning to live in ways that consistently honor God and reflect His glory in all things.

MISSIONS MEMO...

World Christian Broadcasting • Franklin, TN

World Christian Broadcasting is a non-profit organization supported by concerned Christians whose purpose is to take God's Word—through mass media—to people who may have no other means of hearing the Good News.

Our official Mission Statement: "World Christian Broadcasting exists so that people in places best served by broadcast media become aware of the Good News of Jesus Christ and want to know more."

The message of God is relevant to all time, yet the ways that message is delivered must stay current. World Christian Broadcasting's international shortwave broadcasting communicates the Good News to millions every day. KNLS, located at the top of the world in Anchor Point, Alaska, has been on the air since 1983.

A new station, located on the island of Madagascar in the Indian Ocean, has produced tremendous positive feedback helping spread the Gospel around the globe. In addition, each of our seven languages offers its own website, so that people out of broadcast range can still read important, life-giving messages.

Through these shortwave transmissions, we can blanket virtually the entire inhabited world. By speaking in people's own language, forming friendships, and creating bonds of trust, World Christian Broadcasting sparks hope, interest, and curiosity among listeners. Programming encourages a personal study of the message of Jesus. By the grace of God and the technology He provides, many will hear the Good News, perhaps for the first time, and respond to the life-changing invitation of Jesus.

Thank you so much for helping us share our mission. We're passionate about sharing the love of Jesus and the Bible with people everywhere on our planet. Our journey began with a simple idea: to utilize shortwave radio to connect hearts around the globe. Thank you, Southern Hills, for joining us in this wonderful adventure of faith!
