Are Christians Ever Forced to Sin?

Christian ethics rests on the unchanging moral law of God. Scripture is clear: God never tempts His people to sin, nor does He place them in situations where obeying Him would require disobedience (James 1:13). Yet, life often presents difficult choices, and some claim Christians sometimes face “tragic moral conflicts,” where each apparent option seems sinful. Is it ever right to disobey one command to obey another? The Bible gives a clear answer: no.

Even under oppressive governments or dangerous circumstances, God calls His people to obey Him above all else. The Hebrew midwives refused to kill infants as Pharaoh commanded, and God honored their faith and preserved life (Ex. 1:15–22). Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego remained faithful to God despite royal decrees (Dan. 3; 6). The apostles likewise obeyed God rather than human authorities when commands conflicted (Acts 4:18–20; 5:29).

Difficult situations do not always mean only two options exist. Scripture allows wisdom, silence, discretion, and trust in God to guide decisions without violating His commands (1 Cor. 10:13). Moral accountability focuses on truthfulness and obedience, not perceived outcomes or fear-driven assumptions (Exod. 20:16). Even in crisis, God provides ways to honor life, act faithfully, and maintain integrity.

The principle is clear: Christians are never forced to sin. God’s law is consistent, His commands achievable, and His guidance sufficient. In moments of moral tension, faithfulness, wisdom, and trust in His provision reveal the way to obey without compromise.

MISSIONS MEMO...

Mac Graham • Littleton, NH

In addition to church planting efforts and evangelism in Littleton, New Hampshire, Mac Graham, helps lead the Lancaster Church of Christ. Please pray for these efforts and for many open hearts and minds so more individuals in New Hampshire can learn the Good News about Jesus Christ.

Between the two churches, Mac helps lead two worship services on Sunday, Bible studies on Wednesdays and Thursdays and a personal evangelism class on Fridays. Mac reports: "Recently we began a work called Monday for the Master. This event is intended to get the congregation more involved with evangelistic efforts and it's working!

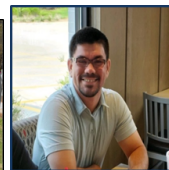

We've done door knocking with House to House, written get-well cards that we hand deliver, and other things, for example, last week we got together and hand wrote thank-you cards for the entire police and fire departments here in Littleton and put Gift cards in each one. These included information about the church and a business card for contacting us.

These are an attempt to make certain that each of them knows we exist and to build good will. We have a conversation with whoever we can while doing so and strike up friendships so that we might be able to study the Bible with them.

Monday for the Master has been a benefit both in the evangelistic efforts themselves and also in increasing the confidence to do evangelism in some of our members."

Recently, Mac has started working towards his master's degree through online studies which will enhance his knowledge and equip him for future opportunities in ministry.

Mac is the son of Colin Graham, a missionary in Northern Ireland also supported by Southern Hills.
